- To constantly monitor suppliers, to preserve and guarantee the quality of the used components.
- To carry out a continuous extensive market research to avoid the shortage of components and raw materials.

The Quality Management System of GIVI MISURE has a risk-based thinking approach. This allows the company to determine factors that could generate deviations of the processes from the Top Management goals and the reference rules. This approach allows GIVI MISURE to perform the necessary preventive controls to minimize the possible negative effects and better exploit the opportunities offered by the market, catching in advance its trends. The Quality Policy is translated in a plan with defined and measurable goals for the various levels of the organization. These goals are verified yearly in the Top Management Review.

The Quality Manager supports the Top Management in verifying, through measurable instruments, promoting and spreading the results of each improvement action undertaken.
